

I believed.

I could beat them on my own.

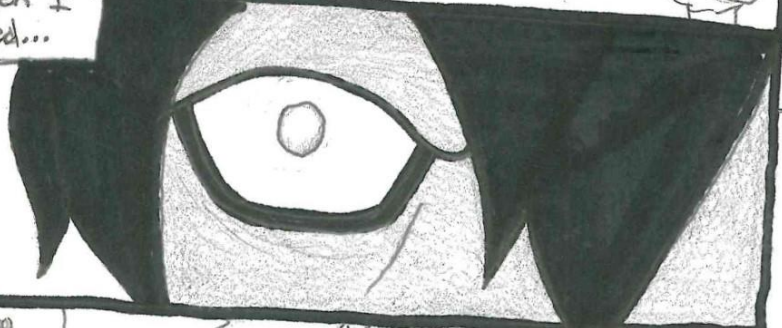

I wouldn't accept anyone else.

and this lead to my downfall...

But then I realized...

We are stronger when we stand together.

That no matter what color we may be...

